Declaring that she had an agreement to rent the property at 194 Poplar avenue at $90 a month for one year, and that C. N. Grosvenor. Sr. and C. N. Grosvenor, Jr., had failed to live up to the contract, and would not deliver the property to her on Sept. 1. Mattie L. Massey filed suit for $2,000 in circuit court. Saturday.

Because the property was not put at her disposal on the date she alleged the agreement set. Mattie L. Massey alleged that a forcible entry and detainer caused her ejection from property she had occupied. She charged that the Grosvenors, after her agreement, got an offer of $135 a month for the Poplar property, but that they were holding out for $150. J. H. Watson and H. W. Brown filed her bill.

ABANDONS PORCH FOR COURTROOM

Judge H. W. Laughlin, of Fourth circuit court, abandoned his swing and cool front porch Saturday and hied to the courthouse, where during the warm hours of the day, he heard numerous suits for divorce. About 30 persons, the majority women, were on hand to gain freedom from marital boredom.

boredom.

The judge's place behind the bench was warm, but because the big ceiling fan in his courtroom made so much noise when running that he had difficulty in hearing testimony, he regretfully ordered Deputy Alvin Snowden to cut it off.

The Most Serviceable Truck in America

motor trucks=

"We have had our Paige truck in service since June, 1919, and it is putting it mildly to say that we are well pleased with it. It has not as yet cost us one dollar for repairs, nor has it been out of service one hour except on Sundays and holidays".

> JACKSON LUMBER COMPANY Oklahoma City, Okla.

THAT counts most in the oper-V ation of a motor truck is its ability to continue steadily at work day after day, free from interruptions which not only interfere with working schedules but also lower the truck's daily earning power.

It is this characteristic of Paige Trucks which enhances their value in the eyes of Paige owners—and especially of those who keep an accurate account of operating costs. Comparison has shown that with Paige Trucks the per-mile cost of transportation is surprisingly small.
